Not only does the lack of education among women make the dissemination of nutrition education difficult, it appears also to be a major obstacle to campaigns for family planning. It is significant that one of the more successful planning efforts has been in Korea, where literacy is over 80 percent. Thailand, Singapore, Hong Kong and Taiwan have also had more satisfactory results than, for example, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Bangladesh, India or Indonesia, where a large proportion of the female population is illiterate. The education level of women is significant also because it has a direct impact on their chances of employment; and the number of employed women in a country's total labour force has a direct bearing on both the Gross National Product and the disposable income of the individual family.

- i) What does the passage suggest about family planning programmes in Korea?
- ii) Name the countries where family planning programmes are satisfactory ?
Why ?
- iii) What is the main disadvantage of the lack of education in women ?
- iv) What is most affected by a woman's lack of education ?
- v) Write a suitable title for the above passage and justify it ?
