On 8th March every year, the world pays homage to womanhood by celebrating Woman's Day. But has anyone wondered why there is the need to pay so much special attention to women in this manner? Everyday must be woman's day, why only one day in a year! But such thoughts seem hollow in contrast to the real status of women in the society today. Women are important members of the society as they are the ones who give birth to the next generation and impart to them values and education.

The curse of dowry and honour killing knows no bars of rural, urban, lower class, middle class or higher class. There are certain professions, which are strong holds of women basically because their innate nature has made them for them. The gentle caring required in nursing a patient at a hospital, the polite, welcoming manners of a receptionist, the caring, loving and patient hearing of a teacher- all such qualities are present in a Woman :

- (i) When is Woman's Day celebrated every year?
- (ii) Which professions are strongholds of Women ?
- (iii) Name the classes which are affected by Dowry ?
- (iv) Give the meaning of the following words from the passage-

- |                |              |               |                |
|----------------|--------------|---------------|----------------|
| (i) Attention, | (ii) Impart, | (iii) Innate, | (iv) Contrast. |
|----------------|--------------|---------------|----------------|
